TELL YOUR FRIENDS – BIG GED TEST CHANGES ARE COMING:

- After December 2013, you will no longer be able to take the written (paper and pencil) GED test.
- The GED test will be a new and different exam, and you’ll only be able to take it on a computer.
- Scores for any tests you’ve passed before that date will expire (i.e. will not be use-able).
- If you don’t have your GED by then, you will have to start over studying for a new test.
