Eating for Two YOU

Join Us for A New Conversation About

Pregnancy, Weight Gain and the Obesity Epidemic
Sponsored by the University of Michigan Global Challenges program

MARCH 11, 2014
12:00 – 4:00 p.m
North Campus Research Complex

Lunch will be served
Please RSVP to Eating4You@gmail.com by February 21, 2014

What is Eating For You?
We are a group of interdisciplinary University of Michigan faculty and community representatives, interested in how pregnancy relates to obesity in women and children. We are building a diverse and complementary team to address the critical public health issue of obesity across the life course. Our primary team-building activity will be bringing people together at a community-wide symposium on Tuesday March 11, 2014.

Come enjoy refreshments, networking with colleagues and potential collaborators, and presentations on weight gain in pregnancy and social marketing.

Learn more about how YOU can help change the conversation.

@Eating4_you