A confluence of movements within chaplaincy, healthcare and broader culture have made outcome oriented chaplaincy (OOC) a timely topic. We will discuss how OOC can help chaplains both provide better care and demonstrate their value within a milieu of evidence-based medicine and organizational quality improvement.

After looking at the origins of OOC, we will examine the substance of OOC including its foundational commitments, primary and secondary components.

Speaker: Rev. Brent Peery
Director of Chaplaincy Services
Memorial Hermann – Texas Medical Center

October 23, 2013
9:00am—11:00am
University of Michigan Hospital
Room UH 2C108

RVSP at https://umichumhs.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_bKrmmj9IXSYbT3D