MICHIGAN DIABETES RESEARCH AND TRAINING CENTER

ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM 2012

and

The Ray A. and Robert L. Kroc Lectureship in Diabetes

Co-sponsored by

MICHIGAN COMPREHENSIVE DIABETES CENTER

Saturday, April 21, 2012

9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Kellogg Eye Center Auditorium

9:00 a.m. Kroc Lecturer: Matthias H. Tschöp, M.D.
Alexander-von-Humboldt Professor; Director, Institute for Diabetes and Obesity, Helmholtz Center Munich; Chair, Division of Metabolic Diseases, Technical University Munich; Adjunct Professor, Metabolic Diseases Institute, University of Cincinnati

“Targeting Gut-Brain Communication for the Treatment of Diabetes”

10:00 a.m. Sonia M. Najjar, Ph.D.
Professor and Director, Center for Diabetes and Endocrine Research, University of Toledo College of Medicine

“Early Role of the Liver in Diet-Induced Obesity”

10:30 a.m. Lei Yin, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Molecular & Integrative Physiology; Assistant Professor of Internal Medicine, University of Michigan

“Dealing with Obesity: The Molecular Clock Response to Nutritional Stress”

11:00 a.m. Thomas W. Gardner, M.D.
Professor of Ophthalmology and Visual Sciences; Professor of Molecular and Integrative Physiology; Professor of Internal Medicine, University of Michigan

“The Endocrinology of Diabetic Retinopathy”

11:30 a.m. Poster Session and Buffet Lunch for All Participants

For further information contact
Barbara Hawkins at 763-2561
hawkinsb@umich.edu