*While this program is open to all students with an interest in medicine and health disparities, the Office for Health Equity and Inclusion particularly encourages applications from students from underrepresented minority groups in medicine. Applicants from rural and socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds are also encouraged to apply.

What is the purpose of this program?

The purpose of the Pre-College Exposure Academy is to give rising 10th and 11th grade high school students exposure to the University of Michigan, and to health and pre-health career fields.

What will participants do and learn during this program?

Participants will take college prep courses taught by experts in the field, such as English, Chemistry, Biology, and Math, which are essential courses for a successful track to biomedical professions.

Will participants be in residence at the University of Michigan during this program?

Yes. Participants will reside in U-M residence halls, under the supervision of Student Leaders from U-M who will be present 24/7. Participants are expected to remain in residence during this two-week program, and may not leave unless extenuating circumstances present.

How do I make sure the authors of my Letters of Recommendation are contacted?

The Office for Health Equity and Inclusion will contact the ‘recommenders’ by email. Please be sure to provide accurate email address information for your ‘recommenders’, and OHEI will take care of the rest.
